

Though Flesh May Fail

[Psalm 73:21-26]

Words and music by
James L. Clark

Tune: FOREVER
L.M.w/Refrain

1. When grief would fill one's life with dread And smash all rea - son from the mind
2. When Earth owns noth - ing to de - sire And pil - grim suf - fers worth - less - ness,

To leave the spir - it near - ly dead And make the pil - grim bru - tish, blind;
In God is coun - sel to in - spire, With Heav - en's fi - nal bless - ed - ness;

Refrain

Though flesh may fail, God's strength holds fast To guard each soul each day, each hour,

One's heart may fail in storm - y blast But is re - vived in God's strong power.
