

GO FEED MY SHEEP

Words and Music by
James L. Clark

1. If I should die, O Lord, to - day, Would I know why I came this way?
2. As then I live with - in the now, My life I give, I keep my vow
3. If I shall go be - yond to - day, I will know why I came this way,

Would my short span up - on this earth Ful - fill a plan of end-less worth,
To feed His sheep and heal His land, My faith plunge deep that I may stand
In giv - ing all that some might see And thus be blessed e - ter - nal - ly,

Or would my days be reck - oned loss Be - cause my ways de - nied the cross?
And sound God's plea through - out the earth That all may know the sec - ond birth.
As did the Lord with blood - bought grace, I take the sword and make the race.

If I should die, O Lord, to - day, Would I know why I came this way?
As then I live with - in the now, My life I give, I keep my vow.
If I shall go be - yond to - day, I will know why I came this way.

Go Feed My Sheep

Refrain

Go feed My sheep and heal My land, Your prom - ise keep, heed my com - mand;

Through: all the earth sound out God's call, And prove your worth by giv-ing all.

8.8.8.8. (D); Refrain

Tune Name: PROMISE

If I should die, O Lord, today,
 Would I know why I came this way?
 Would my short span upon this earth
 Fulfill a plan of endless worth,
 Or would my days be reckoned loss
 Because my ways denied the cross?
 If I should die, O Lord, today,
 Would I know why I came this way?

If I shall go beyond today
 I will know why I came this way,
 In giving all that some might see
 And thus be blessed eternally,
 As did the Lord with blood-bought grace,
 I take the sword and make the race.
 If I shall go beyond today
 I will know why I came this way.

As then I live within the now,
 My life I give, I keep my vow
 To feed His sheep and heal His land,
 My faith plunge deep that I may stand
 And sound God's plea throughout the earth
 That all may know the second birth.
 As then I live within the now,
 My life I give, I keep my vow.

Refrain:

Go feed My sheep and heal My land,
 Your promise keep, heed my command;
 Through all the earth sound out God's call,
 And prove your worth by giving all.
