

O God, You See Me, Tired and Worn

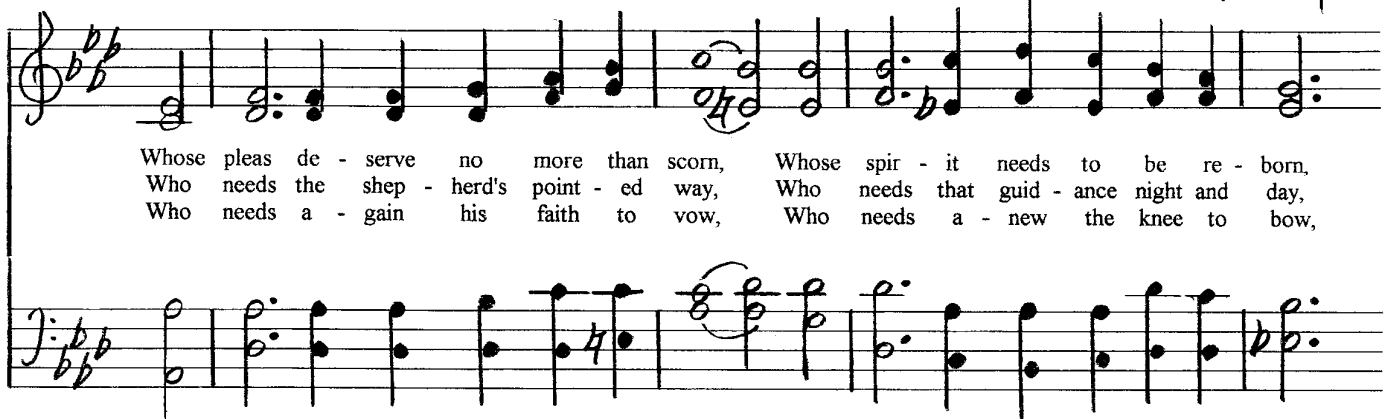

Words and Music by
James L. Clark

Tune: RECONCILED
8.8.8.8.6.

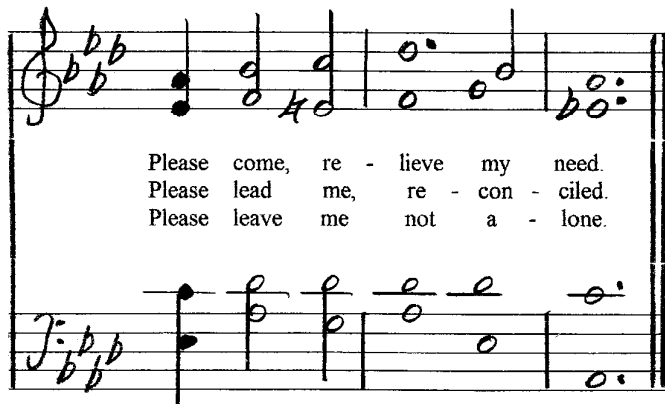

May be sung in unison

1. O God, you see me, tired and worn, A wit - ness weak in word and deed,
2. O Christ, you see me some - times stray, A prod - i - gal but still God's child,
3. O Ho - ly Spir - it, see me now As one who strug - gles on his own,

Whose pleas de - serve no more than scorn, Whose spir - it needs to be re - born,
Who needs the shep - herd's point - ed way, Who needs that guid - ance night and day,
Who needs a - gain his faith to vow, Who needs a - new the knee to bow,

Please come, re - lieve my need.
Please lead me, re - con - ciled.
Please leave me not a - lone.

O God, you see me, tired and worn,
A witness weak in word and deed,
Whose pleas deserve no more than scorn,
Whose spirit needs to be reborn,
Please come, relieve my need.

O Christ, you see me sometimes stray,
A prodigal but still God's child,
Who needs the shepherd's pointed way,
Who needs that guidance night and day,
Please lead me, reconciled.

O Holy Spirit, see me now
As one who struggles on his own,
Who needs again his faith to vow,
Who needs anew the knee to bow,
Please leave me not alone.
